Basic In-Text Citation

Sentence with information that you took from a source (Author'sLastName pg#).

Bananas are a great source of energy and proteins. They contain about 100 calories per piece, making it a good source of energy.

(Pederson)

*Remember that in your bibliography the FIRST word or phrase of the bibliography entry goes in the in-text citation!!!

Variations on the Rule

*If there are no page numbers in your source (webpages, electronic encyclopedias) leave them out

*If the source does not have an author: you use whatever the first phrase is in the bibliography--This does not have to be long...just enough to point your reader to the right source citation in your bibliography!

*If the source has more than one author: use only the first author's last name and then 'et al.' meaning 'and others' (Bissot et al. 4)
